SPOTS AND STAINS ARE REMOVED

If you spot or stain your gown or wrap, on the street or at a social function, we can remove the spot and make the garment perfectly fit for wear.

Our expert workers possess a full knowledge of this most important stage of the dry cleaning process, and can almost guarantee the satisfactory removal of any stain.

There are some stains and some fabrics, however, upon which spots take the nature of a dye, and cannot be removed. These, we, or any one else, cannot of course treat, but with these uncommon exceptions you will find that we can repair damage that would prove costly—at a little expense to you.

ANDERSON COLLEGE

Examination week is over, and the students have settled down earnestly to their work. A very good showing was made by most of the students on these mid-term tests, which closed on Saturday.

After the week of close application, the students particularly appreciated the holiday given Tuesday in honor of Gen. F. E. Lee's birthday. Very appropriate exercises were held in the college auditorium at 10 a. m. These were attended by the students and faculty and some friends from town. Dr. Kinard and Mr. Faithful made very interesting talks on Gen. Lee while there were several songs and a reading by others of the school.

The students and faculty entertained informally. Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Murray of the faculty who is retiring to be married on the evening of January 28th. Little Miss Nelle Kinard, daintily dressed as a miniature bride, made the presentation of the collection of miscellaneous constituting the shower. The gifts were accompanied by original verses, which were read as the gifts were opened, and added to merriment of the occasion which would otherwise have been more or less sad, as it marked the severing of ties never to be renewed. Delicate refreshments were served later in the afternoon.

Miss Anna Tribble has moved into the dormitories for the remainder of the session. She is warmly welcomed.

The college is very fortunate in having no serious cases of illness during this period of pneumonia and gripe weather.

All are looking forward to the great lecture "Acres of Diamonds" by Dr. Russell Conwell at the college on Tuesday evening, January 26th. The live committee is to be congratulated on this splendid choice of a lecture.

Dr. and Mrs. Kinard gave a most delightful At Home Saturday evening honoring Miss Murray, the college bride-elect. The members of the faculty, the local board of trustees and their wives, Dr. and Mrs. Vines, Mrs. Murray, Dr. and Mrs. Wilhite, and Rev. Dr. Spilman were the guests invited to meet Miss Murray. Dr. and Mrs. Kinard are delightful hosts and to be invited to their hospitable home is to be insured of great pleasure. During the evening a group of ladies from the faculty enacted several charades which created a bit of added merriment. Three courses of the most delicious refreshments were served by the members of the senior class at the college assisted by Misses Lavinia Kinard and Lafayette Johnson. Miss Murray was very lovely in a pretty gown of rose silk crepe.

TOWNVILLE SCHOOL

TOWNVILLE, Jan. 23.—The meeting of the School Improvement Association was called off for Friday afternoon. A number of patrons who did not know of this fact came to attend the meeting.

Misses Nina Farmer, Winnie Grubbs, Mank Earle and Florrie Dunlay and Frank Marette stood teachers examination in Anderson Friday.

The students are becoming interested in the various athletic events scheduled to be held in Anderson next spring. The declamation contests in both Anderson and Oconee counties will have representatives from this school if all plans are carried out.

The new library books recently ordered have arrived. On Friday afternoon only a few out of the whole lot were left in the library as so many students asked for books to read. This new lot of books was selected by the teachers with the aid of Miss Maggie Garlington. Everybody is delighted with their selection. With this handsome addition, the library is one of the best school libraries in the county.

Mrs. S. A. Wideman, Mrs. L. S. Boleman, Misses Little Galaway, Alice Smith, Gratha Whitfield, Elizabeth Wideman and Messrs. Billy and Sam Wideman were visitors at school this week.

Misses Carrie Stewart and Emma Stevenson who have been on the sick list are at their regular duties again.

Miss Eula Thrasher, who was severely injured on the playground recently is improving rapidly so the physician reports.

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL

The enrollment of our school is greatly enlarged since Christmas, and many have taken up their work for the new year with greater enthusiasm and endeavor to duplicate the record of the splendid work done during the past year.

Miss Garlington has not yet visited our school, but we hope to have her with us in the near future.

One of our high school pupils has had a call to Georgia recently to fill a vacancy as teacher. Our very best wishes for success go with him.

We are sorry that some of our pupils have had to absent themselves. We were glad to have Messrs. Brock and Mullikin, trustees, visit our school recently.

ERSKINE COLLEGE

In one of the fastest games of basketball seen here this season Erskine defeated the Presbyterian College of South Carolina by a score of 18 to 12 on last Saturday afternoon. Both teams played good ball and fought hard. The first half was characterized by the excellent guarding of both teams, the half ending with the score 4 to 3 in the Presbyterian's favor. In the first part of the last half Erskine came back with the old time speed and rushed the visitors off their feet, piling up a good lead which the Presbyterians were unable to overcome. Erskine's team work was the prominent feature of the game. The next local game scheduled is with the Bailey Military Institute on February 1.

The semi-annual celebration of the Philomathean Literary Society will be held in the Erskine auditorium next Friday evening, January 29.

Dr. Moffatt will attend the meeting of the South Carolina College presidents in Columbia this week.

At a recent meeting of the student body resolutions were passed endorsing State-wide prohibition. This movement has also been endorsed by the students of Furman University and the University of South Carolina. The second term will begin February 1. There will be no break in the regular work.

Dr. J. I. McCain, professor of English literature, addressed the meeting of the Abbeville college teachers at Abbeville on last Saturday.

Coach La Motte has returned to his home, Columbia, after a season of very efficient coaching of the Erskine basketball team. The speed and team work that he has put into the squad speaks well for his reputation.

On last Sabbath evening President R. L. Robinson of the Woman's College addressed the Erskine Y. M. C. A. on the subject, "Spiritual Short-sightedness." Dr. Robinson is a very effective speaker and was heard with much interest.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE COUGH

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." These racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pain in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Syrup than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successful cures proves this. For coughs, colds, croup and other distressing ailments of throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy.—Sold by Evans Pharmacy.

LEBANON HIGH SCHOOL

Our school is getting down to real work since the holidays, and faculty and students are working together to make this a year of progress. We have found out that there is no royal road to learning, and have decided that it is necessary to "burn the midnight oil" if we expect to become famous scholars.

The literary society was very good Friday afternoon. The following program was rendered:

Debate—Resolved: That the war in Europe has not been a disadvantage to the United States. Affirmative—Clara Welborn and Ruth Martin; Negative—Grace Martin and Alvo Clark. The Life of Caesar—Cecilia Copeland.

Declamation—Ernest Hicks. Original Story—Madeline Smith. Vocal Duet—Louise Martin and Florida Welborn.

The visitors were Mrs. D. M. Craig, Mr. Jim Welborn, Mr. Raymond Millikin, and Mr. Grady Harris. We appreciated Mr. Harris' complimentary remarks about our society, and some of the girls are "wondering when he'll be coming back again."

Miss Madeline Smith's "Original Story" was exceptionally good, and everybody enjoyed the declamation by Ernest Hicks.

Besides the new Standard Encyclopedia, twenty-six books have been added to the library. Miss Edyth Hutchinson is the librarian. Each of the 10th grade pupils has to read and outline one book every two weeks.

Mr. Rothrock visited the school Friday morning and made an interesting talk on agriculture. He told us about the composition of the soil and what was necessary for growing cotton and other crops. He said that our plot of ground, was doing about the best of any in the county.

Miss Blackman has a new stove in her room. All of her pupils seem to be very much delighted with it. Prof. Jaynes would have been glad if Mr. Robbins had brought him only an elbow!

Miss Cooner is happy. She has been wanting a sand box for the primary room. Mr. D. W. Craig furnished the lumber and our good friend, Mr. Marshall Smith, the contractor of Sandy Springs made it free of charge. Miss Cooner is now wondering who will haul a load of nice white sand to fill it.

Miss Broyles and Cooner dined at Mr. Ches. Dugworth's Sunday.

Mr. Oscar Harris has moved near the school house. We are expecting Guy to re-enter his class next week. The whole school is lonesome without the cheery and helpful visits of Mrs. J. G. Dugworth. We hope that she will soon be able to return from the sanitarium.

Everybody is looking forward to the entertainment to be given at the schoolhouse within the next few weeks. Mr. Jim Welborn is arranging an attractive program. Look out for his announcement.

The Lebanon boys played their first game of basketball Friday afternoon. Though they were defeated to the tune of 29 to 5, they played good ball. When they get as much practice and training as the A. H. S. boys the tune will change.

Those who went from Lebanon to see the game were: Mr. J. D. Welborn, Mr. Frank Breazeale, Mr. Carroll Dugworth and others. All reported a good time and enjoyed the game very much.

The next game will be on Lebanon's court and then we will expect a strong support of patrons and friends, who will urge our boys onto victory.

CLEVELAND SCHOOL

The school work at this place is moving along nicely. Our enrollment at first was very small, but at present we have fifty-two. Notwithstanding the bad weather, our attendance for the past month has been the best since school opened. This is so encouraging to the teacher, for it is proof that both parents and pupils are interested in our school work.

Miss M. Garlington spent Friday with us. After hearing her talk on the need of an education, we expect to make better use of our time. As our teacher tells us there is always room for improvement, we realize it is that way with us.

Our improvement association met Jan. 22, which was the first meeting of the year. A very good number were present, which was also encouraging. Miss Garlington was present and discussed several things in the line of improving our school building and grounds.

We expect to get busy at once and try to improve both, especially the grounds.

Guest Fires on Bridge.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 25.—Felipe and Manuel Martinez were killed and three other persons seriously wounded when a guest at a wedding ceremony in Eagle Pass, Tex., last night fired on the bridegroom, a brother of the men killed. Charles Calvario, a former friend of the bride, who is charged with the shooting, escaped by swimming to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. The bridegroom was not hurt.

HONEA PATH SCHOOL

Our basket ball team suffered another defeat Friday afternoon, this game being played at Anderson, however, with that high school team. The score was 28 to 15. But this is not the last chance, and we feel sure that the next time the opposing teams meet that Honea Path will be the "conquerors."

We are glad to state that our school was able to send quite a nice box of provisions, which shall be shipped with numerous other boxes from the various schools over the State to the poor, starving Belgians. The children joined in with very willing hearts and hands, thus making the box seem larger than it otherwise would have been.

Misses Helen Blackman and Leila Edwards, fifth and fourth grade teachers, entertained the remaining graded school teachers Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Miss Blackman.

The high school literary society will hold their public meeting Friday, January 29th, at 8 p. m. Following is the entire program which shall be rendered:

1. Roll Call with Quotations.
2. Solo—Frances McKenzie.
3. Recitation—Dewlee French.
4. Debate—Resolved: That Moving Pictures are More Beneficial than Harmful.
- Affirmative: Jeanette Dotworthy, Eugene Wright, Olin Rice.
- Negative: Marie Gaines, Jessie French, Lawrence Medlock.
5. Piano Solo—Frances Shirley.
6. Declamation—Frank Wilcs.
7. Jokes—Inez Brock.
8. Original Story—Marguerite Brock.
9. Declamation—Charles Cannon.
10. Jokes—Ansel Pinson.
11. Song—Six Girls.

HIGH POINT SCHOOL

The Improvement Association met last Friday afternoon. A large crowd was present, and several new members were added. At this meeting it was decided that a play would be given by the association some time in February. The money made will be used to beautify the grounds. The new books for our library arrived last week and add much to our library.

Miss Maggie Garlington, rural supervisor, visited our school last Wednesday. We always enjoy having Miss Garlington and hope she will come again soon. We expected Miss Janie Garlington also, but on account of a change in the schedule she was unable to be with us.

We are glad to have in our school Sara, Annie Lou, Hoyt and Aaron Martin, who have moved from Belton to their country home.

We are glad that Paul Lee Kay, one of the fifth grade pupils who has been very sick is much better and hope that he will soon be back at school.

UNION SCHOOL

In spite of the severe weather we are having the school has a large attendance now. And the teachers and pupils are glad to have with them as assistant Miss Estelle McConnell.

Mr. Vandiver and Miss Sadie Prince of Antreville visited at the home of Mr. Enoch Keys last week.

Rev. M. M. Brooks who has been visiting at the home of his father, Mr. B. B. Brooks, returned home Saturday.

Mr. James Harris has been seriously ill but is improving now. Mr. B. McMahan and Miss Grace Gambrell spent Wednesday night with the latter's sister, who is teaching at Piercetown.

A number of our ladies enjoyed an "old time quilting" at the home of Mrs. Charlie King one day last week. The Whitefield Mission Study Class met at the home of Mrs. A. F. Burgess Thursday evening.

The School Improvement Association had a goodly number present at the meeting held Friday, January 15. We insist that every one who can meet with us at our next meeting which is to be Friday before the third Sunday in February. A very interesting program has been arranged. One feature of the afternoon is to be a "spelling match" conducted by Prof. A. W. Attaway.

Miss Beaulieu Baldwin is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carl McConnell of Marietta, S. C.

Protest Against Aeroplane Shipments. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Protest against the shipment of American hydro-aeroplane to the Allies on the ground that such aircraft are vessels, was made to the state department today by German, through her ambassador, Count von Bernstorff.

Mrs. McClain's Experience With Croup.

"When my boy, Ray, was small he was subject to croup, and I was always alarmed at such times. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy proved far better than any other for this trouble. It always relieved him quickly. I am never without it in the house for I know it is a positive cure for croup," writes Mrs. W. R. McClain, Blairsville, Pa. For sale by all dealers.

I BROKE MY GLASSES

once and found how inconvenient it was to be unable to use my eyes for the balance of the day.

I made a resolve then that I would make it possible to replace a broken lens, however complicated its formula the same day the order was left with me.

I have succeeded even better than I hoped, for now we are able to replace any broken lens, even where you do not give us the prescription, in from one to three hours, with an exact duplicate MADE IN OUR OWN SHOPS.

Is this worth anything to you? It so remember this advertisement the next time you break a lens.

This is only one example of the thoroughness and modernness of my entire business.
